514 REFOLO Charlotte Perriand

Designed 1953

Modular system to be used as a low table, bench or padded by simply adding cushions. The frame is in natural or dark stained oak. The surface is composed of nineteen laths; there are two support legs, or three (in the version 91.7"). The cushions, in polyurethane and polyester wadding, are: • armrest • seat • set of two matching cushions: one seat and one backrest. The cushions can be attached to the frame and fixed to it by means of a simple fitting system. They can be positioned freely on any part of the surface; this therefore allows the surface to be used, in the required sizes, as either seating base or top.

Identifying marks and production numbers

Each piece of furniture in the "Cassina I Maestri" Collection is indelibly marked with: • the signature of the Author, whose copyright belongs to his heirs or trustees, the use of which has been granted exclusively to Cassina and which in the form of a trade mark, certifies the authenticity of the furniture; • the "Cassina I Maestri" logotype, which incorporates the Author's emblem as used by him as identification on his drawings; • the production number which serves to place the item in the chronology of production, and tallies with the "Identity Card" (which bears the same number). This shows that a final quality check has been carried out, and allows the Heirs' control as far as compliance with copyright is concerned. The red arrow on the drawings shows where the trademark and the serial number are branded.
